

Introduction

Modern slavery is a heinous crime and a morally reprehensible act that deprives a person's liberty and dignity for another person's gain. It is a real problem for millions of people around the world, including many in developed countries, who are being kept and exploited in various forms of slavery. Every company is at risk of being involved in this crime through its own operations and its supply chain.

At Dacsa Ltd, we have a zero-tolerance approach to modern slavery, and are fully committed to preventing slavery and human trafficking in our operation and supply chain. We have taken concrete steps to tackle modern slavery, as outlined in our statement. This statement sets out the actions that we have taken to understand all potential modern slavery risks related to our business, and to implement steps to prevent slavery and human trafficking during the financial year 2019.

Our business and supply chains

Dacsa Ltd is a UK based company, who is wholly owned by the parent Spanish Company Maicerias Españolas. Its sole activity is milling maize into ingredients for the food and feed industry, largely for the domestic British market. Exports into the EU are less than 1%.

We establish a relationship of trust and integrity with all our suppliers, which is built upon mutually beneficial factors. Our supplier selection and on-boarding procedure includes due diligence of the supplier's reputation, respect for the law, compliance with health, safety and environmental standards, and references.

We haven't been made aware of any allegations of human trafficking/slavery activities against any of our suppliers, but if we were, then we would act immediately against the supplier and report it to the authorities.

Risk assessment

In the past year, we conducted a risk assessment of our supply chain by taking into account:

- The risk profile of individual countries based on the Global Slavery Index
- The business services rendered by the suppliers
- The presence of vulnerable demographic groups
- A news analysis and the insights of labour and human rights groups

This assessment will determine our response and the risk controls that we implement.

Policies

Dacsa Ltd operates the following policies for identifying and preventing slavery and human trafficking in our operations:

- Whistleblowing Policy - we encourage all employees, customers and suppliers to report any suspicion of slavery or human trafficking without fear of retaliation. We provide the contact Whistleblowing officer in the Company and confidential helpline to protect the identity of the whistle-blowers.
- Code of Conduct - our code encourages employees to do the right thing by clearly stating the actions and behaviour expected of them when representing the business. We strive to maintain the highest standards of employee conduct and ethical behaviour when operating abroad and managing our supply chain.
- Ethical Policy -Is based on the ETI base code, and State Company commitment with Labour regulation and the conventions of the International Labour Organisation.

Dacsa Ltd pass bi-annually an Ethical audit :4 pillars SMETA ,promoted by the SEDEX platform. Audit is performed by a third party and the improvement opportunities and Non Conformities are subject to remediation via action plans.

Supplier due diligence

Dacsa Ltd conducts due diligence on most relevant suppliers during on-boarding and on existing suppliers at regular intervals. This includes:

- Assessing risks in the provision.
- Auditing the suppliers, and their health and safety standards, labour relations and employee contracts
- Requiring improvements to substandard employment practices
- Sanctioning suppliers that fail to improve their performance in line with our requirements

Awareness & Training

Dacsa Ltd has raised awareness of modern slavery issues by sending an email that is focused specifically on modern slavery to all our staff, which explains:

- Our commitment in the fight against modern slavery
- Red flags for potential cases of slavery or human trafficking
- How employees should report suspicions of modern slavery

In addition to the awareness programme, Dacsa Ltd plc has rolled out a training addressed to the Staff and some employees, which covers:

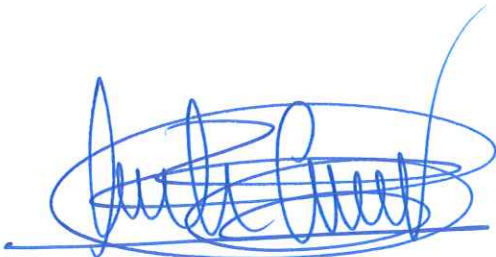

- Various forms of modern slavery in which people can be held and exploited
- The size of the problem and the risk to our organisation
- How employees can identify the signs of slavery and human trafficking, including unrealistically low prices
- How employees should respond if they suspect slavery or human trafficking
- How suppliers can escalate potential slavery or human trafficking issues to the relevant people within their own organisation
- What external help is available for the victims of slavery
- What terms and guidance should be provided to suppliers in relation to slavery policies and controls
- What steps Dacsa Ltd will take if a supplier fails to implement anti-slavery policies or controls

Measuring how we're performing

Dacsa Ltd has defined a set of key performance indicators and controls to combat modern slavery and human trafficking in our organisation and supply chain. These include:

- How many employees have completed mandatory training?
- How many suppliers have filled out our ethics survey ?
- How many grievances related to human rights has been raised by employees or suppliers in the previous year?

This statement is made pursuant to section 54 (1) of the modern Slavery act 2015 and constitute our Company's slavery and human trafficking statement ,for the financial year from 1 April 2019 to 31 March 2020 .
